

Crime Suppressed By Police Vigilance Says Annual Report

Jonathan Jones, Captain of Police Submits Records of Department During Year to City Commission

Tribute to the efficiency, watchfulness and alertness of Ogdens police officers is paid by their chief, Captain Jonathan Jones in the annual report of the department which has been submitted to the city commission. Captain Jones gives credit to the officers for their vigilance in keeping down crime within the city to an extent below that experienced by other cities. The commission report states that the police department can be justly proud of the work which it has done during the past year.

The report of the police department is a tribute to the officers who have maintained a high standard of efficiency and loyalty. The report states that the police department has been successful in suppressing crime and maintaining order within the city.

Captain Jonathan Jones, who has placed Ogdens police department on an efficient basis.

recovered. The goods recovered after thefts reached a total of $129,639 and when figures are struck, it is shown that articles valued at but $28,589 were a total loss.

ARTICLES RECOVERED.
During the year 135 automobiles were stolen in Ogdens, valued at $124,300. It is shown that 123 of these machines were recovered leaving but fifteen which were lost.

The table showing the classification of articles stolen, lost and recovered, is intensely interesting when studied. It outlines the great variety of articles which came under the hands of thieves and reflects the activities of the officers in bringing the guilty to justice. The table in full, follows:

Articles	Cases	Value	Recoveries	Value	Unrecovered	Value
Automobiles	135	$124,300	123	$113,550	12	$10,750

Total	760	$158,219	416	$129,639	344	$28,589

DRUNKS LEAD A BIT.
Drunkness brought more persons in the police tolls than any other one offense during the year. The report shows that 235 arrests were made and these apprehended paid $2266 into the city treasury in fines and forfeitures and spent sixty days in jail.

Three murders were committed in Ogdens in 1920 and two persons were arrested for the crimes. The report shows that the police department was successful in bringing the guilty to justice.

The report also shows that three persons were arrested for murder in the second degree.

REGARDING ACCIDENTS.
The special report of Captain Jones in regard to vehicle accidents is interesting inasmuch as it outlines the reasons for crashes and suggests remedies. It follows:

From the following report, it will be noted that the vehicular accidents are in excess of what they should be and the number shown constitutes only a portion of those that actually occurred. Many cases occurred outside the business section and as there were no fatalities or serious consequences they were never reported to the station by either those concerned or by witnesses.

A large majority of the cases reported and investigated proved to be disregarded traffic regulation and carelessness. In some cases the cause was lack of knowledge of such regulations. Fortunately there was but one fatality.

Every effort has been exercised on the part of the department to instruct and regulate traffic that all such accidents might be reduced to a minimum.

During the year painted markings were placed along the street curbside designating where automobiles should park and where they should not and at what angle to park. In addition to this feature concrete zones were placed at intersections and additional ones placed at street car stops to insure safety, all of which have proven satisfactory and good results obtained.

In September of this year, an ordinance restricting the use of bright headlights and placing regulation on the angle at which they were to be pitched became effective and a decided improvement took place. No doubt this regulation avoided many accidents. To accommodate the public and assist them to comply with this ordinance it was necessary to keep an officer at the police garage every evening for a month or more to inspect their lights. Over fifteen hundred received inspection certificates and many cars passed through the garage several times.

In the interest of safety, organized bodies of citizens at the police department should lend every consideration to the safety and welfare of our citizens by abiding by all traffic regulations and seeing that others do the same.

KANSAS REUNION TO BE HELD HERE

Former Jayhawkers to Assemble Here on Saturday, Jan. 29

Former residents of Kansas will hold their thirteenth annual reunion Saturday evening, January 29, according to a statement issued by the Utah-Kansas society.

At that time the former Jayhawkers of Ogdens and its vicinity will recount the glories of the Sunflower state which they left to come to a better state.

The statement issued by the association calling attention to the annual reunion follows:

"While former residents of Kansas may not have any greater love for their former home than the natives of other states, yet they are always forward in showing that affection."

"The Jayhawkers of Ogdens and vicinity through their officers elected last year, are already busy planning their annual banquet and good time to be celebrated on January 29th, the anniversary of the admission of Kansas to the sisterhood of states."

"It is the desire of the officers—composed entirely of ladies—that a generous response be made by all former residents of Kansas and their families to this invitation to attend."

"That Kansas is one of the most wide-awake, up-to-date states of the Union none will dispute. The citizens were the first to successfully carry out 'home-dry' prohibition, also many other reforms, which continually keep them in the time-light."

"Their environment seems to give the people more 'pep' and 'vim' than in most states. Note the record-breaking crops of wheat and other grain brought about by their energy in connection with the fertile plains of the wonderful Sunflower state."

"Let all renew their memories of this glorious state by turning out to the reunion, where there will be good music, speaking and an abundance of good-cheer such as is radiated by the native and adopted sons and daughters of Kansas."

"Watch the press for further information, and reserve January 29th for this occasion."

GOLFERS WILL HOLD MEETING

President W. H. Wattis to Entertain Members at Weber Club

The annual meeting of the members of the Ogdens Golf and Country club will be held at the Weber club next Tuesday evening, according to an announcement made last night by Secretary W. D. Brown. President W. H. Wattis will entertain the members of the club at a dinner at the Weber club starting at 7 p. m. after which business reports for 1920 will be read and approved.

Following the dinner five directors for the three-year term will be elected and the annual report of the secretary will be made during the early spring. The Ogdens club has more than 175 non-resident and resident members enrolled in the organization at this time and a drive for new members will be made during the early spring.

During the 1920 season several events of importance were staged on the local course. Included in the 1920 program was the state tournament, which was decided here in September. George "Giz" Von Elm was declared the winner of the state title after a stubborn battle with Harold Lamb of Salt Lake.

The course at the Ogdens club is an ideal one and has been pronounced by eastern experts as one of the best in the entire United States. No two holes on the entire course are alike and the greens are dissimilar according to Secretary Brown.

All members of the local organization are urged to be present at the meeting Tuesday evening. Following the business meeting several surprises will be featured, according to Secretary Brown.

Musical numbers will also be featured on the evening's entertainment program. President W. H. Wattis will preside.

HEATED PARENT TELLS TEACHER WHAT HE THINKS

A disregard for rules and regulations of the Weber county schools, which are backed by laws of the state, may get one parent into hot water. R. J. Jones, county attendance officer, said yesterday.

A teacher of one of the county schools questioned one of his pupils regarding his constant tardiness and tardiness. The lad told his father and this letter came back:

"Mr. M—
I read your sermon last night and did not think much of it. If the teachers would do half as much as they think they know it would make a very good school. They are good lesson signers and salary drawers. I think I do keep one of my children out, do not send any of your servants down after him. You and all of your teachers come down and see if you can get him. I will show you the time of your life."

Altiart to Bring Big Orchestra Here
More than one hundred and eighty-five members were present at the Altiart society dance which followed the business meeting Thursday evening in the Ogdens Conservatory of Music. The society has decided to sponsor the thirty-piece Columbia symphony orchestra as well as Miles Volkey, a Russian ballet dancer. These two features, together with several numbers furnished by members of the society will be given in the near future at the Berthana.
